

THROATSTOCK: SPEAK OUT!

Throatstock will free your mind through wordplay and your soul through song.

The sessions can vary in size and scope from one-on-one tuition, through to group workshop intensives and even a festival of voice. Connect with your voice and bring your ideas to life through words, breath and movement!

ALPHAMAMA is a recording artist, song-writer, performer, community builder and music educator who has worked with and supported artists such as Jessica Mauboy, Reece Mastin and Salt n Pepa. bravochild is a poet, master improviser, performance artist, actor and game designer who has travelled Australia and the world bringing change through play and social experiments.

Together they believe that the key to having a successful and happy life lies in good communication skills. Through these workshops, the duo show how art is communication and can be used to bring about change.

The workshops cover the following areas:

- How to convey ideas through voice, writing and movement.
- How to write a transmedia narrative.
- Performance, acting and improvisation skills.
- Singing solo and in an ensemble.
- Music composition.
- Working in the Live Arts industry.
